PROJECTS

UniqueLaundry-

Detail-

In my 5th semester college project, my team and I developed a Laundry Management System. We used VB.NET for the front-end development and MySql for the back-end to store and manage the entries.

FOODmarket-

Detail-

During my final year of my degree program, I had the opportunity to develop a food delivery website as a part of my college project. This platform allows users to place orders with ease. For the user interface, I used React JS while for the back-end, I implemented Node JS with Express Js. The project data management was secure and efficient Firebase, where all the details of orders and users were stored. It was a wonderful experience to create this project.
